Does This Apply to You?
There are many families in this section who do not take the LEADER, some in fact who do not read any paper regularly. To all such who may read this notice, we desire to say that one of the first duties a man owes to his family is to provide them with instructive and entertaining reading matter. It is knowledge alone, intelligence gained by the exchange of ideas, by the contact of mind with mind, which releases man above the grove of an animal. There is no better, no cheaper, medium of instruction than the modern newspaper. Hence the newspaper is one of the things which makes life worth living. For the trifling sum of four cents a week you can obtain a copy of the LEADER, which is the best paper of its class in America.
The LEADER is a family newspaper which makes every effort to give the general and local news. It is a paper which is read by the whole family. It is a paper which is read by the whole family. It is a paper which is read by the whole family.
We offer to supply you with three months of the LEADER for the sum of two dollars, a price easily within the reach of every one. With the LEADER you will get a portfolio containing 20 Press Notes of the strange people that were seen in Midway Plaisance.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

W. R. Mosier is Killed at the Pioneer Quarry.

Yesterday another fatal accident occurred at Pioneer quarry, and Wm. R. Mosier had the life crushed out of him in an instant of time. The details of the sad affair as related to a LEADER reporter, are as follows: The company have been putting in a new derrick and hoisting apparatus at the quarry, and was hoisting the main post or staff into place. This is a large, heavy piece of timber and was being hoisted up along the side of the bluff. One hoisting engine had a wire cable attached to the upper end of the staff, and the other engine was connected by another cable to the lower end. When nearly in an upright position against the side of the bluff the cable fastened to the upper end gave way and let the heavy staff start to fall down the bluff. The engineer that had hold of the lower end of the timber was compelled to let loose of it also to prevent it from capsizing the derrick he was working. Mr. Mosier, the deceased, and Ed Blalock, another workman were at work directly beneath at the foot of the bluff, and between the bluff and the railroad, dressing a stone. The timber in its rush down the side of the hill caught poor Mosier squarely against the trucks of the car and crushed the life out of him. The end of the heavy timber struck him on the breast and almost cut the body in two. One of his legs was almost severed from his body. The body was horribly mangled, and death was instantaneous.

Mr. Mosier was a sober and industrious young man, and was highly respected by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and five children, the oldest child being a boy of about 12 years of age. His family have the deepest sympathy of all their acquaintances in their deep affliction.

No blame can hardly be attached to anyone in connection with the quarry for the sad accident. The cable was supposed to be fully capable of sustaining a much greater strain. All the workmen had been warned to keep out from that place while the hoisting was being done, but Mr. Mosier deemed it perfectly safe. The sad accident cast a gloom over the entire community. This is the second workman who has lost his life at the Pioneer quarry, the first being Geo. Lay Onaker, who fell over the ledge last June, and was instantly killed.

The trial of Alma Morris for killing deer for their hides was completed before Justice Powell and a jury of six men, this forenoon. A verdict of not guilty was brought in. One man informs the Democrat that he saw eight carcasses near Morris' place, which he testified to, another saw Morris carrying deer in on his back, it is stated that he confessed to different parties and it is further said he came to Albany with money to confess and pay his fine; but he was ably defended and cleared, and was likewise well prosecuted, but the jury didn't look at it according to the reports given. It is possible no one saw him skin the deer and sell the hides. But the county will foot the bill, nearly $200.—Albany Democrat.

If the man who owns one to five hundred acres of land would divide it up and sell at reasonable prices, retaining only a small portion for his own use, in three years the grand development made in new methods of cultivating the soil in diversified farming would make his few acres left worth more than all his present possessions. He would help fill up the country with men who would make good roads and sustain better schools for the education of the children.—Cottage Grove Leader.

During the month of November, six sailing schooners loaded with lumber left from this port, and carried away a little over 1,500,000 feet of sawed timber to the San Francisco market.—West.

Harlan Items.

Mr. G. Mason started home to the valley last Saturday taking a nice mess of salmon with him.

Mr. John Rexford has started his fall plowing Monday.

Mr. Wm. Mulkey's baby, that Mrs. Davidson has so kindly taken care of since his wife died, about a year and a half ago, passed away last night. It has always been delicate so it was not a matter of surprise. The people on Big Elk sympathize with the family.

Mr. Wm. January, the mail carrier, was crossing the bridge by the Harlan P. O. last Tuesday when it gave away letting horse and rider into the creek. The horse was not injured, but the rider got his arm hurt also his foot mashed.

Miss Maud January and Miss Beula Tunison went fishing last Saturday and landed thirty-five big salmon, now boys beat it if you can.

Mr. Hathaway has sixty-two fine salmon smoking and drying for home use.

Mrs. McDonald is again visiting her relatives on Big Elk.

Siletz Items.

Rev. Potter held services here last Sunday morning. He makes visits here once a month. Before leaving he joined Dr. Curle, our Agency physician, and Miss Humphrey, the school matron, in wedlock. We wish them a happy future, for they are well matched.

Last week the school employees and a few outsiders were assembled in the boys' play-room, to discuss whether or not we should have a Christmas tree. The meeting was organized by electing Hon. Beal Gaither president, and Hurley Lutz secretary. It was decided to have a tree. The committee on whole was appointed, there being so many on the committee the writer will not attempt to give their names. Although the committee on subscription has not finished their work they have already collected $40 toward a tree for the school children. So we have a fair prospect for a good tree.

Mr. Stillwell, one of our teachers, went out deer hunting with his shotgun, on the doctors' horse, last Saturday. He came home with one salmon, the only game he came across and he was bound to bring game home, so he paid two-bits for it, which amounts to thirty cents the way he paid it. Well done for Stillwell.

The society women of San Francisco have adopted a novel plan to raise money for the support of the ward for incurables at the Children's hospital. They are going to edit the Christmas number of the Examiner. W. R. Hearst, proprietor of the paper, has agreed to turn over the whole newspaper plant to them and they are going to write every line on the paper, manage the business department, edit the telegraph news, collect the local news solicit the advertisements—and in fact, do everything in preparing the paper for publication up to the time it goes to the composing and press rooms. The entire proceeds of the Christmas edition will be turned over to the ladies to be used for the support of the Children's hospital. The ladies are very enthusiastic over the scheme and promise to issue a paper that will be a revelation to Mr. Hearst's corps of men editors.

It is about settled that the spring will find a creamery on this river. Mr. Fremont has nearly completed plans for putting in a separator on Maple creek, and he is supported by all of his neighbors. Should the dairymen on North Fork agree to bring milk or cream to a creamery, and the up river dairymen join the forces, one would be built.—Florence West.

Horace N. Penoyer, son of Governor Penoyer, died on Saturday last, at Williamsburg, Massachusetts, of typhoid fever. Young Penoyer was attending college at that place. He was about 19 years of age and was the governor's only son.

Lincoln County at the Exposition.

The Lincoln County exhibit has been duly arranged in the exposition building at Portland and is now being viewed by thousands of people daily. Owing to a misconnection of freight trains the exhibit did not reach Portland until late Saturday night, and consequently did not get arranged until Monday. The exhibit is much more complete and extensive than was hoped for by the most enthusiastic of its originators. It covers two large tables and is an attractive place and is well arranged. Upon opening the exhibit after receiving it there it was found to be in good shape except the honey from Alsea. This was found to be badly damaged, not a single comb of it being sound. This is greatly regretted as the honey was one of the best exhibits and for flavor, taste and appearance can not be beaten anywhere.

The benefits which will be derived from this exhibit cannot be estimated. The writer hereof, realized that great good would come of it to the county, but the interest it attracts is much more than we anticipated. The extent and variety of the exhibit is such as will attract universal attention. The samples of sandstone from the different quarries attract the universal attention of all the builders. The exhibits of coal, vegetables, etc., are simply immense and cannot be excelled. There is another exhibit at the exposition made up from the different parts of the state, and the Lincoln county exhibit exceeds it in extent and quality. The most notable thing about the two exhibits is that the fruit, particularly the apples, of the general exhibit are almost universally deceased, while those of the Lincoln county exhibit are all sound and perfectly free from insect pests or diseases of any kind. Lincoln county is all right and will be well repaid for its trouble and expense.

On Friday last the Postal Telegraph Company completed their second trans-continental route through to New York via San Francisco, Denver and Chicago. Yesterday (Sunday) on a test, wires were successfully worked from Portland, Or., to New York via the new Eastern route, and back to Portland via the old route, making a continuous circuit of nearly 8000 miles. The time consumed was only a fraction of a second with two transcontinental and three Atlantic cables this company can now offer the very best possible facilities.

An interesting statement is that made by the Coquille creamery for the month of September. It shows the amount of butter fat in the milk delivered there is constantly increasing, and now reaches 4.43 per cent, while the price paid for butter fat has increased to an average of 22 1/2 cents per pound, thus bringing in the dairymen $1. per hundred pounds of milk which is a money-making price.—Florence West.

Governor-elect Lord, of Oregon, with Senator Mitchell, called on President Cleveland, last Thursday, and invited him to come to the Oregon people to visit Oregon. Senator Mitchell told the President if he would come any time after January 1 next, he would guarantee that the governor of Oregon would meet him at the state line, referring to Penoyer's refusal to meet President Harrison.

All the Portland churches are fighting to close the saloons on Sunday, and the services are attended by numerous crowds. Astoria is following the example and great interest is taken in the movement. The chief of police, Minto, and the district attorney of Portland have publicly pledged themselves to enforce the law against gambling and houses of ill fame.

The body of Nicholas Springer, jr., age 19, son of N. Springer of Albany, who went goose hunting on the 28, was found in a slough ten feet deep. He rode horse back, and in attempting to cross a bridge, the horse slipped off, drowning the boy. Searching parties were out and found the body Friday.
